

HEINZ BAKED BEANS

Their most surprising item, for why not bake your own beans?

Because of the great Heinz cookery. People have their choice; and in three short years baked beans have become the largest item in the Heinz trade.

The very finest beans procurable and baked, not boiled.

Heinz Prepared Mustard

The best seed, ground without exposure to air. Nothing of its capricious pungency lost. Seasoned to a smooth, mild stimulant after the manner of the French.

Try these products and all others of the "57 Varieties." Heinz success due in a large measure to all their goods being unadulterated foods.

LIQUOR COMMISSIONERS MEET.

The liquor commissioners for the County of Maui met at the public room of the Masonic Temple Monday to consider applications for liquor licenses.

All of the members were present.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. The first application to be considered was that of G. Lin Fook of Kipahulu for a saloon license.

The license was refused on the ground of defective bond. There were two well known citizens on his bond but neither hold any real estate in the County.

The application of Soon Look for a license for Kunnac met the same fate as there was nothing to show that the parties who had gone on his bond were real estate holders.

An application from Otto S. Meyer of Kaunakakai was the next application considered. A license was granted without opposition.

The commissioners thought one saloon for Kaunakakai sufficient for which reason the application of Chang Tung was denied.

An application from the Kaupakalua Wine & Liquor Company was considered and the application granted with the proviso that the Company does not sell in bulk in less than five gallon quantities and that in case of their desire to sell in bottles they do not sell in quantities of less than one case of three gallons.

That section of the law that prohibits any company selling under a fourth class license any where except on its premises and that the wine bought shall not be consumed on the premises was thoroughly discussed by the members as some feared the granting of a license at Kaupakalua might become a nuisance in case the law was not strictly observed by the licensees.

The application of Lin Hee of Pukoo, Molokai was considered by the Board and a license refused as there is already one saloon at Pukoo.

The secretary reported sending $5554 to the Treasurer and read his letter acknowledging the receipt of the same.

The matter of the traveling expenses to which each member of the Board is entitled was taken up and it was finally agreed to allow George Copp, $6.50; H. A. Baldwin $4.50 and C. D. Lufkin $1.50 for each attendance while the two members from Kahului give their services free as they have no traveling expenses in connection with the meetings.

The Board decided to hold but one meeting per month in future.

The next meeting will be held September 3rd at which time the application of Ah Nin of Waihee for a Restaurant License will be considered by the Board.

In the matter of the notification of the liquor dealers of the conviction of parties of the offense of drunkenness the Chair ruled that it is the duty of the Inspector to notify each dealer in the district where the offense had been committed and the party convicted.

BELL FOR FIRE DEPARTMENT.

W. J. Coelho returned from Honolulu Saturday with two fire bells for use by the local fire department. One of the bells is a large one to be used on top of the station. It was formerly the bell used on the Kaimiloa the first man-of-war owned by the monarchy. The other bell is a small one to be used on the hose cart to warn persons on the street of the presence of the cart.

Missionary Rousts Japanese to a Turn.

TORONTO, August 3.—The Rev. E. P. Mackay, General Secretary of Foreign Missions for the Presbyterian Church in Canada, in a letter to Mr. Hamilton Cassils, K. C., gives a very different idea of the Japanese people from that which is generally accepted nowadays. Dr. Mackay is on a tour of inspection of the Presbyterian missions in the East, and is now in Manchuria, having gone there from Korea. He describes the Japanese Government's treatment of the Koreans as barbarous and atrocious.

"It is oppression—atrocity—oppression," he says; "I was a Japanese enthusiast until I came here, but I have changed in spite of myself. They have spent tens of thousands in writing themselves up and winning the confidence of Europe and America, and thus securing moral support and funds. Yet in reality they are barbarians. Their treatment of the Koreans is scarcely less atrocious than the horrors of the Congo."

"It would be incredible if I did not see it before my eyes and hear it from every missionary on the ground. Mr. Hulbert, who has written on Korea, and has given his life to them, is now in Europe trying to get a hearing for the Koreans at The Hague. I see in the Montreal Witness a paragraph from Tokio describing Mr. Hulbert as an agitator and American adventurer who is trying to make himself notorious. That is the kind of thing that Japan has reduced to a system. I have not yet met one foreigner who is not intensely indignant at the cruelty and injustice of Japan in this land."

"I am told by one of the oldest missionaries in Korea today that there is not a case on record in which a Korean got justice against a Japanese, how ever great the offense, and this is done, and made possible, it is believed, because of British alliance. An old courteous gentleman called on me the other day and asked whether this was Western civilization. He knew Britain's influence is in this, although too courteous to say so. I never before blushed for my country."

"But you will think me excited. No, I am greatly disappointed, and wondering how far it may be in my power to enlighten America as to the real conditions. Japan's loans and successes have been so far aided by Western sympathy that probably nothing else will be so effective as exposure in compelling decency in administration. Somebody has summed up the Japanese in two words—'Conceit and Deceit.' I am afraid it is correct."

As They do It in Honolulu

Fernandez did better than Hampton, at the Riverside League games yesterday. He waited till the games were over and then in his unofficial capacity he hunted up the obnoxious rooter, and did him up.

He did it in the presence of applauding thousands, and was then caught up bodily by the admiring Riverside League and carried on their shoulders to his car. Vierra, who was done up, washed the blood from his face at one of the taps on the Ania Park green sward, and walked off unescorted in the other direction.

Vierra, who recently returned from the Coast after an unsuccessful attempt to get his Chinese stunt on the vaudeville circuit, has made a practice lately of making himself conspicuous at the Riverside games by his criticisms and denunciations of players and umpire. Yesterday he was especially objectionable in his remarks addressed to Eddie Fernandez, the umpire. Finally Fernandez thought he was not called on to quietly endure the remarks addressed to him and told Vierra that if he didn't keep quiet he would put him off the grounds. Vierra retorted that it was a public park and that Fernandez could not put him off.

Nothing further was said at that time, but when the game was ended, and Fernandez ceased to be an official, but resumed his status as a citizen, he went right to Vierra, and without any preliminary parley, let out right and left at Vierra. Vierra defended himself, but he was not a match for Fernandez, and he suffered a bad pummeling.

The excitement in the crowd was intense. The people surged round the two combatants, but it was over quickly. The crowd nearly to a man took sides with Fernandez, and when he finally desisted from his attentions to Vierra, the members of the Riverside League or some of them picked him up on their shoulders and carried him to King street where he took a car for home. While they waited for the car, hundreds gathered round and cheered lustily for the fighting umpire.—Advertiser.

Court Notes.

J. P. Cockett, the only surviving heir of George Cockett of Kula made application to the Judge of the Second Circuit Court for letters of Administration of his father's estate on Monday of this week. Testimony was introduced showing the estate is worth above one thousand dollars with debts due a number of creditors.

Judge Kepoikai felt that Patrick Cockett could do more by the estate and appointed him the administrator.

J. N. Kapioho made application to be appointed the guardian of the person and property of Joseph N. Fernandez a distant relative. He claimed to be a cousin of the child but the Judge doubted whether the witness understood the meaning of the word as he understood English imperfectly and it was explained by the Court that there is no such word in Hawaiian as cousin.

It developed that the reason Kapioho wished to be appointed guardian was in order to oust his own wife from the land of the minor where she and the child are now living. The Court hesitated about granting the request but finally appointed Kapioho the guardian of the person of the minor and appointed E. H. Hart the guardian of the property of the child.

Kapioho and his wife have lived together for many years and until he left her and lived with his adopted daughter in Waihehu all seemed to go well. Reliable Hawaiians of Waihehu blame him and defend the wife.

The matter of the estate of Henry Cooper was taken up and September 4th was fixed as the time of hearing at which time the accounts of Rev. Kapu will be taken under consideration.

Sabbath School Hoike.

The annual convention of the Sabbath schools of the Hawaiian churches was held Sunday in Wailuku in Kauhununu church. A great many persons were present from Kahuku, Waihee, Kahului, Wailuku and Wailuku.

At this meeting classes from all of the churches were examined as to their proficiency in the Sunday school work and each school sang several songs, an accomplishment in which the Hawaiians excel.

The results of the examinations were a credit to each of the schools and a gratification to those present.

After the exercises an excellent luncheon was served to all. This annual reunion is always a pleasure to the classes and is looked forward to as one of the principal events of the season by all of the young people as well as many of the older ones.

Americans Got Ready.

(From Manila Cablenews, received yesterday by Hongkong Maru.)

CAVITE, July 30.—When the war clouds were gathering thick and dark on the American Japanese horizon there was a feeling of uncertainty and unrest with our men-of-war gathered together in Chefoo harbor where they were peacefully riding at anchor.

It will be remembered how, previous to the formal declaration of war by Japan and Russia in their late struggle a squadron of Japanese ships appeared without warning off the harbor of Chemulpo, Korea, on the 8th of February, 1904, and finding there the crack Russian cruiser Varang, and the small gunboat Korietz, ordered them to surrender. We know the consequence of that fateful day the Russians losing both their ships and many sailors, though they fought bravely against overwhelming odds.

Having this tragedy in mind, when a squadron of Japanese men-of-war, five in number, came steaming into Chefoo harbor among our American ships, Admiral Dayton instantly took every possible precaution against any surprise which would be possible for the Japanese to undertake. To this end orders were given to have all guns in readiness for instant action, sights were broken out and adjusted on the guns, ammunition hoists were oiled and electric connections made ready and guns' crews given their cue. At night all search lights were put in use. It was their "practice" nights.

The American ships, consisting of the West Virginia, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Colorado, Raleigh and two or three smaller craft, did not clear their decks for action, a procedure extremely unwise in the situation then confronting Admiral Dayton; instead our ships showed the greatest courtesy to the Japs, invited them aboard and receiving a great many Japanese cadets as visitors. These were of course restricted to the upper decks and the officer's quarters aft, and were not shown the mechanism of our breech blocks and gun sights so important to those versed in ordnance work.

As to the Americans expecting a fight that was highly improbable. There was some anxiety occasioned by the fact that by underhand means it would be possible for the Japanese to do serious injury, and when it is remembered that the American ships were in a foreign port, more or less isolated from the world's happenings, owing to the limited cable communication at Chefoo, it can readily be seen that the situation from the standpoint of the American sailors, offered an uncertain future.

Therefore our ships were promptly put in readiness to turn loose several broadsides at the first sign of suspicious action that everything was so delicately carried out on the ships of the American fleet that no unusual precautions could be noticed by the many Japanese officers who availed themselves of the opportunity to inspect the ships which carried the stars and stripes.

These are the facts.
